

A MIDDLE SCHOOL IN THE MIDDLE OF NEXTON

If you heard about the Nexton Middle School groundbreaking ceremony last December (which included a charming serenade from the Nexton Elementary School choir), you'll be happy to know construction is full steam ahead and classes are expected to begin in fall 2026. Appropriately located in Nexton's Midtown neighborhood, the middle school will bring another outstanding Berkeley County public school to Nexton and will let kids who live in Nexton continue their education right in the community.

OPTIONS FOR LITTLE SMARTIES

If you have the impression that educational opportunities are popping up all over Nexton, well, you wouldn't be wrong. Two early childhood learning choices are available for the littles: KinderCare and The Goddard School. Need a little math support (and really, who doesn't?), check out the tutoring programs at Mathnasium. Then there's KidStrong, an innovative, science-based program focused on developing the whole child: mind, body and character. Because the way we see it, you can never start too soon on a life of learning.

EARLY LEARNING AT NEXTON

LIVE A LEARNING-FILLED LIFE

What sparks your curiosity? Irish poetry? Memoir writing? The forgotten battles of World War II? The Charleston Academy for Lifelong Learning (C.A.L.L.) at College of Charleston explores all these topics and more. Then again if you're looking to go deep into a topic, maybe even embark on a new career, you might consider getting your certificate in cake decorating, cinematography, landscape design, digital photography or any of the dozens of other subjects available from Trident Technical College. Because a busy mind is a happy mind.
